

Calendar-related Customs of the Old Believers in the Chernigivshchyna-Region: a Dialogue of Cultures

Olena Ju. Chebanuk

(Summary)

The Russian old-believers have lived in the villages of Radul' and Dobrianka (Tchernigovsky region) since the end of the XVII century. They have preserved their faith and devotions, along with the Russian language, original rites, singing style and cuisine – in their private lives.

The influence of the Ukrainian festive culture on the calendar manners of old-believers is analyzed.
