

Linguistic and Cultural Aspects of the Precedent Texts in the Language Vocabulary of Vassil Levski

Margarita Simeonova

(Summary)

The linguistic-cultural texts in which the culture of a given population is described in a focused manner (presenting life experience evaluations, characterize special aspects in the traditions, morals and rituals of the people who speak those language) have a special place in the system of the linguistic knowledge. The author discusses the linguistic-cultural aspects of the precedent texts (phraseologies, proverbs, metaphors, symbols) in the language Vocabulary of Vassil Levski. The significance of the proper usage of text reminiscences is demonstrated in terms of achieving the set communication goals, as well as the reflections and connotations of some ethno-cultural stereotypes. The research shows that the linguistic-cultural text evokes in the mind of the language carrier a certain amount of evidence, which on one hand determine the logical construction of the expression, while on the other – define the connection to some critical situations in the history and culture of the respective people.
